Imported Rice

Activity Lessens
Good Yields Here
New Crop Arrives

OPERATIONS in imported rice in the local market are now on a smaller scale than in previous months and less activity is noticeable. The principal development has been the steady arrival of the new Chinese crop. More than half of the crop has already been harvested and sent down to the various marketing centers of the country. The balance is being harvested on the golden rice fields and should dribble in slowly. On the whole, the yield is expected to be better than the past season, when in many districts the outturn was poor.

The report of favorable yields in the various provinces where rice is grown in China has the effect of making the Chinese chary of operating in foreign rice, and it is therefore not likely that importations during at least the next two months will be more than a trifle in quantity. The total transactions in imported rice do not run into more than a hundred tons, the dominant factor being the bullish crop reports.

Put shortly, the yield in the various rice-growing centers is expected to be somewhat on the following scale:—Kiangsu 65 to 70 percent, Anwei 50 to 55 percent, Hunan 70 percent, Honan 70 percent, Chekiang 60 to 65 percent, Kiangsu 60 to 65 percent, Hupeh 60 per cent of normal. These provinces which resort to importations from abroad when the crop is much below the average, have enough for their needs for some months. Consequently, there is no inducement for the merchants to operate in the rice markets of Rangoon, Saigon or Bangkok.

HANKOW PROSPECTS

The Hankow district reports good rice crop prospects for this summer, but no estimates have been received as to percentage of the crop expected. The crop is in almost all parts of China is good this year. Around Shanghai the crop is also excellent, while in some parts of Hunan the yield is expected to be 20 percent over normal. In the Swatow district, it is estimated, that the first crop was some 40 percent below normal, while the Foochow district experienced a good harvest. In many provinces the farmers have shown no enterprise in increasing the acreage under the cereal, and this is in a large measure due to the scarcity of seed in some of the famine districts.

The prices of the various grades of Chinese rice are steady, standing round the following figures: Hunan rice $9.80 per 1½ piculs, Kiangsi $10.10 per 1½ piculs, Kiangsu $12 per 1½ piculs with an easier tendency. Stocks of Chinese grown rice at present in Shanghai are estimated at 210,000 bags and of imported rice about 25,000 bags. This is sufficient for the needs of the populace for the time being. Although there has been some irregularity in the local market for Chinese rice, the tendency of prices is easier, with a possibility of their going lower.

It would appear that Japan has large stocks of rice from the previous crop, and the large supplies sent from China to Japan on receipt of the news of the disaster that overtook Yokohama and Tokio were really not needed. It illustrates the mistake, although it was a generous mistake, of sending down supplies of goods to Japan without ascertaining whether the country was in need of that particular commodity. From accounts in the Japanese press it would appear that some of the rice sent from here is rotting on the waterfront. The conflagration in Tokio and Yokohama destroyed at the time some 500,000 koku of rice stored in the warehouses of these two cities, and naturally enough, the effect on the rice market of this loss was small.

BIG CARRY-OVER

Japan has an abundant carry-over this season, the first estimate of the rice for the year just published placing the yield at 58,250,514 koku. This is a decrease of 2,434,333 koku, or four percent as compared with the yield of last year, but an increase of 290,093 koku, or 5 percent on an average year, or 290,000 koku or ½ percent over five years' average. The actual harvest is not expected to differ very much from the estimates by reason of the favorable weather conditions. From Korea, as well, come reports of a good rice crop.

Reports of the establishment and accomplishments of agricultural experiment stations are coming from all parts of China, and it appears that the government authorities are beginning to awaken to the advantages of modern methods of farming. As a result of an order issued sometime ago by the Chinese Minister of Agriculture and Commerce, several agricultural associations have been organised in different provinces but it is reported that in others no action has been taken.

CAPTAIN AND MATE SHOT IN PIRATE RAID ON STEAMER

River Vessel Attacked En Route From Hongkong

CARRY OFF LOOT

Indian Guards Are Overpowered, Disarmed

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Hongkong, Oct. 25.—The Chinese river steamer Sunning, from Hongkong to Kongmoon, was pirated on the night of October 23. Captain McKeohnie and the Chief Officer, Mr. Spittle-Robb, were shot with revolvers. The Captain was seriously wounded and has been taken to hospital. The pirates wounded one and overpowered two other Indian guards, whom they disarmed. They carried off considerable loot. No captures were made.

According to reports received by the China Coast Officer's Guild the Reuter dispatch above contains several errors. The ship on the run is called the 'Sanning', not the 'Sunning', and the master's name is not 'Captain McKeohnie, but Captain J. McKechnie. The Guild has not one by the name of Mr. Spittle-Robb on their membership list. There are, however, a Mr. C. H. Spittle and a Mr. C. S. Robb. As Mr. Spittle is master of the s.s. Halvard, Wo Fat Sing's vessel plying between Hongkong and Saigon, the mate wounded is believed to be Mr. Robb. Captain McKechnie has been in Hongkong waters for many years and is not very well known in Shanghai. Mr. Robb, however, was formerly in the Butterfield & Swire service here.

SOVIET READY TO APOLOGIZE FOR KIDNAPING

No Mention Is Made Of China's Demand For Punishment Of Guilty

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Harbin, Oct. 20.—The Soviet Authorities at Chita, in reply to the demands made by the Chinese Authorities in connection with the capture and imprisonment of Chinese Customs officials, have notified the Authorities in Harbin of their readiness to make an apology for their action and to return the arms which they took away from their captives. They however remain silent on the subject of the third demand made by the Chinese, namely that those guilty of the attack on Chinese officials on Chinese territory should be punished. Nevertheless, the Chinese Authorities have decided not to carry out their threat to close the Russian Custom House at Manchuli, on Chinese territory, but to adopt some other measure.

Mr. Li Shao-jen, foreign affairs representative in Harbin will shortly proceed to Manchuli to investigate the affair and to obtain the necessary assurances from the Soviet Authorities ensuring the avoidance of any similar misunderstandings in the future.

Mystery Seen In Report Of S.O.S.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 24.—Mystery surrounds the earlier telegram from Newport News to the effect that the British steamer Westmoreland had sent out an S. O. S. message which broke off in the middle of a message and that it was feared that all on board had perished. The Federal Steam Navigation Company, the owners of the only Westmoreland in Lloyd's List, declare that the ship cannot be theirs in view of a wireless despatch which the captain of the vessel has sent to his wife reporting: "Well. Be home on Saturday."

Headed American Relief Workers

General Frank McCoy.

U. S. SPENT GOLD $20,000,000 IN JAPANESE RELIEF

General McCoy Passes Through Returning To Manila

Brigadier-General R. McCoy, U.S.A., aide to Governor-General Leonard Wood of the Philippines, who was at the head of American relief work in Japan following the great catastrophe, is in Shanghai on board the President Pierce on his way back to Manila.

General McCoy is accompanied by Col. George T. Langhorne and other Naval and Army members of his relief staff, all of whom have been especially commended by the Japanese authorities for the spendid work they performed in behalf of the people of the stricken country.

Vast sums of money were expended by the United States in rendering relief to the stricken people of Japan and the spirit in which the relief was given did a great deal to break down the barrier of suspicion that has existed between the two peoples for so long.

The Red Cross appropriated $10,000,000. The United States Navy spent $3,000,000 and the United States Army spent $8,000,000. Of the total of approximately $20,000,000 gold nearly $4,000,000 was spent to provide clothing for 200,000 refugees.

Mr. George Bronson Rea of Shanghai, who volunteered as one of General McCoy's assistants, entertained the General and his party last night prior to their departure today on the Pierce.

Eleven Facing Charges As Result Of Wreck

(BY UNITED PRESS)

Washington, Oct. 25.—The Navy Department today announced that it had decided to try by court martial 11 officers who were on duty when the destroyer flotilla of the Pacific fleet went on the rocks near Santa Barbara, resulting in the total loss of seven of the destroyers and the death of more than a score of their crews.

The officers will be charged with neglect of duty.

According to reports made to the Navy Department following the catastrophe, the destroyers were steaming at 20 knots in a dense fog when they went on the rocks.

Very satisfactory progress has been made in the co-ordination of the three forces of defence of the Empire. The exposition of views has concluded and committees are now being formed to draw up a definite scheme and work out a plan.

An Air Committee has already been formed. Each part of the Empire was represented at its first meeting, which was unanimous as to the necessity for security.

YE OLD ENGLISH FAYRE TO OPEN THIS AFTERNOON

Many Novelties Scheduled For B.W.A. Exhibit At Race Course

Lady Macleay, wife of the British Minister to Peking, will preside at the opening of Ye Olde English Fayre at the Race Course at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

All final arrangements for the Fayre were completed last night by the ladies of the British Women's Association and the Race Course is scheduled to be the center of the social activities of the Settlement today and tomorrow.

The pari-mutuel rooms have been converted into a village street studded with a score of interesting little shops in which many novelties and goodies may be obtained. In the rooms above the village street a Lavendar Cottage—with all the artistic touches of a little lavendar cottage in old England—has appeared. This afternoon at tea time it is expected to be the center of attraction of a crowd hungry for the delicacies to be served with afternoon tea.

The Art Gallery occupies two rooms and Toeg, The Artist, occupies a third. Mr. Toeg, who is well known in Shanghai as a very clever cartoonist, will draw silhouettes of all visitors at $1 a head. Another room contains art antiques as well as a splendid exhibition of 'things Chinese.'

The Australian and New Zealand stalls, containing a splendid exhibit of particularly good things to eat from the two islands, is expected to draw a large part of the crowd this afternoon.

Among the entertainment features scheduled for the Fayre are the Juvenile Lyric Club's program, boxing exhibitions featuring Billy Tingle, and Country dances. The children will find special fun on a merry-go-round. Tomorrow night a cabaret supper and dance will be held.

The situation was the worst experienced in the years of the operation of the canal. Several ships narrowly escaped damage.

German-American Makes Strange Bequest

Costume for aged.

A wealthy German-American, a native of Wunsiedel, in northern Bavaria, has made a strange bequest to his native town. He bequeathed a large sum of money for the erection of a home for the aged and indigent males, with the clause, however, that all inmates would have to wear, during their lifetime and regardless of the season, a special costume, minutely described in his will. This photograph shows the strange costume—a sort of knickerbocker suit, with a loose, sleeveless coat and queerly shaped felt hats.

GENTLE ART OF BURGLARY GETS A SAD SET-BACK

Hero Of Forty Lootings Among Foreign Residences Is Laid Away

Foreign residents of Hongkew, West Hongkew and contiguous districts may sleep with a greater sense of security this night, Kwen Ng having been effectively disposed of. Kwen, operating a one of the most astute and successful young burglars in local history, had long been terror stricken householders in the district mentioned.

Yesterday at the Mixed Court the youthful prisoner, he admitted 26 years, pleaded guilty to 39 out of 40 charges brought against him and was ordered into retirement for an eight-year period. This stretch of idleness may be extended, for it now appears that the Frenchtown authorities are interested in him and he will be turned over to them for trial. After his session in the French Mixed Court he will be returned here to serve his local sentence. Expulsion from the Settlement is to follow.

For the capture of the industrious housebreaker credit is due to Inspector Mackenzie, Detective Inspector Prince and Detective Sergeant Oldis, who had long studied the young man's methods and finally were able to bring him to book.

Kwen's mode of working was unique and highly successful. Of an evening he would hire a private ricsha. He would haul the vehicle up in front of a promising looking foreign establishment, drop the shafts and appear to fall into a peaceful slumber on the footboard of his craft. When the opportunity seemed bright he would expertly break a window pane, withdraw the bolts and enter. He never stole anymore than he could stow into the compartment beneath the ricsha seat but his collections covered a wide range of articles. Valuable curios, silverware, boots, glassware—anything compact and of marketable value—constituted fish for his net.

His loot, Kwen disposed of not to the pawnbrokers, through who it might be traced, but to second-hand dealers, so practically none of it was recovered. Nearly all of it he sold to one man, who was located and brought into court. This party was sentenced to a year's imprisonment.

While Kwen freely admitted 39 of the counts filed against him, he indignantly waived credit for the fortieth. The police were just as positive that this job was his and in proof thereof brought in a whole sheaf of identical fingerprints acquired from the broken window panes of the 39 admittedly looted premises and compared them with an enlarged reproduction of the prints taken from the windows of the house in question. The Court was satisfied that the impressions were all made by the same digits. Kwen, however, persisted in turning in a minority report and showed less interest in his 8-year sentence than in registering a kick in this connection. He was still spluttering about not having robbed the house mentioned when they led him out of the court room.

GOVERNOR OF OKLAHOMA IS IMPEACHED

Legislators File Formal Charges Against State Head

(Exclusive China Press)

Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 24.—Governor J. C. Walton of Oklahoma was formally impeached by the Oklahoma house of representatives when it convened here today and heard the report of a committee appointed to investigate the Governor's recent action.

The specific charge brought against the Governor is alleged misappropriation of public funds in that his private chauffeur was carried on the payroll of the department of health at a monthly salary of $200 without rendering any service to that department or to the state.

The impeachment proceedings are the outgrowth of a bitter war between the Governor and members of the legislature, who, the Governor charges, are members of the Ku Klux Klan following attacks by masked and robed bands in various sections of the state, the Governor announced his determination to "drive the Klan out of Oklahoma", and with this in view declared martial law throughout the state.

Members of the legislature had previously attempted to hold a special session to indict the Governor, but when they reached the capitol they found national guardsmen barring their entrance.

(Reuter's Service)

Oklahoma City, Oct. 24.—The Senate has suspended Governor Walton, who denounced the Ku Klux Klan and threatened measures against them, following submission by the Lower House of a bill of impeachment, which charged the Executive with corrupt agreement to divert State moneys from the purposes for which they were appropriated.

CHARGE A.T. WHITE WITH EMBEZZLING FROM STEEL CO.

Case To Be Heard In British Court This Morning

Charged with the embezzlement of £1,500 and Yen 1,000 from the Poldi Steel Company (England), Ltd. at Tokio and Shanghai, Andrew Taylor White was arrested by the Municipal Police Wednesday night and appeared before Magistrate G. W. King in the British Police Court yesterday for trial.

A remand was granted until 10 o'clock this morning after the accused had been formally arraigned and he was released on bond for Tls. 1,500 signed by two British subjects.

Upon application of Mr. J. H. Teesdale the bail of Tls. 5,000, which was put up when White was arrested, was reduced.

Mr. R. F. C. Master opposed reducing the bail, alleging that White was accused of a serious crime, was a 'bird of passage' recently arrived from Japan, and he could see no reason why the original bail should not remain in force.

MR. JUNIUS WOOD ADDRESSES ROTARY CLUB AT MEETING

Advocates Representative Government Formed With Foreign Aid

An interesting discussion of the present day conditions in China with special reference to the rights of extraterritoriality and concessions enjoyed by foreign residents was given yesterday by Junius B. Wood, Far Eastern Correspondent of the Chicago Daily News, before the Shanghai Rotary Club at the Astor.

Mr. Wood, who has won international reputation for his work in the Carolina and Mandate Islands during the Washington Conference and after the Japanese earthquake, was optimistic about the China situation despite the present chaos and concluded that a coalition government in Peking, utilising the foreign influence to stabilise the administration, would relieve the distress.

Yesterday's meeting was attended by a large number of guests, including Mr. E. L. Hall, president of the International Correspondence school and Mr. C. J. Sabiston, foreign executive of the school, who were guests of Mr. A. R. Hager, chairman of the program committee. The three will make a tour in the Philippines shortly. During the absence of Mr. Hager, Mr. H. Holgate will be in charge of the program.

Next week's meeting will be closed to the members only. Three Rotarians, Dr. W. S. New, S. D. Ren and J. J. Evans will speak.

The text of Mr. Wood's speech follows:

WOOD SPEAKS

"Though everybody realises that the need of China is a central government, the sole solution for most of the country's ills; there may be doubts in the minds of many whether the policy of the foreign powers who play such a large part in affairs is directed towards acquiring that necessity. China's chaos is not due so much to lack of government as it is to too many governments whether they be bandit gangs of a dozen or warlords and generalissimos ruling provinces. While in theory, through the diplomatic corps in Peking, foreign powers recognise only one government, in practice through their consular corps in other parts of the country, they

RHINELAND REPUBLICAN COUP FAILS, BERLIN SAYS

Government Claims It Has Mastery Over Separatists

MANY CLASHES

Widespread Disorders Still Occuring In Reich

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, Oct. 24.—German reports from the Rhineland represent the attempt to establish a Republic as an entire failure and assert that the separatists have left or have been forcibly evicted practically everywhere. Only a few are still sitting in the Wiesbaden and Coblence town halls. The failure is attributed to popular opposition.

It is reported from Spier that the proposal to make the Palatinate autonous was rejected by all the political parties in the Diet.

Food disorders continue in various parts of Germany.

Police used batons and swords at Elberfeld, where many shop windows were broken.

Trams were held up today at Kiel.

The revolt at Hamburg has been virtually suppressed.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 24.—The position in the Rhineland is still confused, but the separatist forces are evidently meeting with much opposition. There has been mild rioting at Aix-la-Chapelle and Muenchen-Gladbach with Nationalist counter-attacks on the separatists in public buildings. A number of persons were killed and wounded.

(Reuter's Service)

Brussels, Oct. 24.—It is reported that Crefeld fell into the hands of the separatists this afternoon and that the police were disarmed.

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Oct. 24.—French troops dispersed an anti-separatist demonstration at Coblence today.

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Oct. 24.—Germany has written to the Reparations Commission declaring that she is ready in principle to resume reparations deliveries but that she is unable at present to finance them and requesting the Commission to undertake an enquiry into the German resources and capacity and also to allow a German representative personally to explain the measures for revising the Budget and stabilising the currency.

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, Oct. 24.—Reports from various sources indicate that the Palatinate, which has up to the present has been part of Bavaria, is being declared an autonomous German State.

One version attributes this to the discontent of the population with the recent happenings at Munich. Another says that the French representative on the Inter-Allied Rhineland Commission announced the decision to the members of the Palatinate Diet in view of "the dangerous situation in Bavaria," to which the President replied that the Diet was not competent to deal with the matter.

(French Wireless through Reuter's)

Paris, Oct. 24.—The Minister of Public Works, on his return from the Ruhr, declared himself satisfied with his tour.

The workers in the Koenig, Ludwig and Viktor mines have resumed work.

The very fluctuations of the Rhenish movement, the Temps declared, prove its spontaniety.

In the French zone yesterday the Rhineland Republic was proclaimed without incident at Duisburg.

Viersen, a town of 30,000 inhabitants in the Muenchen-Gladbach district, adhered to the movement, and also Wittich in the Treves district.

At Bonn the Separatist Administration are assuring public services, especially in the towns adhering to the Republican committee.

At Wiesbaden the gas workers have called off their strike.

At Mayence the Separatists have occupied the Sub-Prefecture.

At Coblence French troops intervened to disperse gatherings and to make sure that the German police was not acting brutally towards the demonstrators.

A characteristic fact gives an idea of the manner in which the Separatist movement is spread. At Rudesheim, a procession of merchants and workers proceeded from the station to the sub-prefecture, proclaimed the republic and requested the subprefect to remain in office. The rural communes joined the movement.

It is also reported that several rural communes near Coblence, Arriller, have also joined the Separatists.

Order has been restored at Aix-la-Chapelle, and the Temps states that the movement there is unchanged. On the third day, after orders had apparently come to Berlin, the Republicans were attacked everywhere in this zone and forced to retire from certain towns where they had proclaimed the Republic. They are making for Duren to rally around Herr Matthes and for other centers which are favorable to them.

The Wurtemberg Staatspraesident is endeavoring to mediate in the conflict between Bavaria and the Reich and confered with Herr Knilling yesterday. General von Berents has informed General von Seeckt, in the name of all the divisions of the Reichswehr with the exception of the Bavarian division, that they will maintain unshakable obedience to all the commanders of the armies.

(Reuter's Service)

Coblence, Oct. 24.—It is reported that 12 separatists were killed and 50 wounded during the 36-hour siege of the town-hall at Crefeld, where the police, barricaded behind barbed-wire entanglements, made an energetic defence, only yielding after a portion of their forces had, allegedly, deserted to the separatists.

(Reuter's Service)

Duesseldorf, Oct. 24.—The separatists proclaimed the Republic in a number of towns today, including Ahrweiler, Soden, Diez, Bad-Ems and Rudesheim. The commune of Gelsenheim also adhered to the movement.

(Reuter's Service)

Mayence, Oct. 24.—The position is easier at Aix-la-Chapelle. Order has been restored at Muenchen-Gladbach, the Separatists having left.

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, Oct. 24.—The resistance of the insurgents at Hamburg has been broken, though small bodies of Reds are still scattered in isolated parts of the town. The police lost 11 dead and 34 wounded.

(Reuter's Service)

Frankfort, Oct. 24.—A demonstration of 5,000 workers here today resulted in a collision with the police in which one workman was killed and several on both sides wounded.

Food riots are reported at Marienburg and Allenstein where shops were pillaged.

China Merchants' Vessel Suffers Accident On Way To Shanghai

The China Merchants' steamer Haiming, bound from Tientsin to Shanghai, has had to put back into the nearest port owing to a leak in one of the holds, according to word received at the local offices of the company yesterday.

The word received here stated that the ship had proceeded only a short distance out of Chefoo, on the way to Shanghai, when a leak in the number 4 hold, with seven feet of water showing, caused her to return to Chefoo. The cause and extent of the damage are not yet known here.

BRITISH GAIN BIG SHARE IN WORLD EXPORTS

McKenna Cites America As An Example Of Industrial Revival

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 24.—Mr. Reginald McKenna, addressing the Belfast Chamber of Commerce, showed that Britain's portion of the world's export trade had risen from 14 percent in 1912 to 17 percent in 1922. He expressed the opinion that full revival of trade was impossible under present world conditions, but considerable revival of British trade was possible by the abandonment of the official policy of deflation. He quoted as an instance the case of America in the autumn of 1921 with five milion unemployed, while eighteen months later there was actually a shortage of labor. The improvement was due to abandonment of the policy of credit restriction. Nevertheless, Mr. McKenna stated, he did not advocate a policy of inflation. He pointed out that improvement in trade would necessitate more banking credit and more currency, but this would not be monetary inflation.

Fire Damages Shop In Sinza

Fire, starting from children playing with matches, caused damage to a domestic servant's registry office about 50 yards from Sinza fire station about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. BALFOUR RAPS PROPOSALS TO INFLATE MONEY

Merely An Insidious Form Of Capital Levy, He Declares

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 24.—Sir Arthur Balfour, presiding at a meeting today of the Association of British Chambers of Commerce in London, referring to the advocacy in certain quarters that Britain should adopt a policy of mild currency inflation as a cure for her economic ills, declared that inflation was a "malignant disease comparable with cancer and was really another insidious form of capital levy. Perhaps Britain had deflated too quickly, but inflation was not a cure.

Mr. Kylsant declared emphatically that the City of London was behind Sir Arthur Balfour in his warning against the appalling risks of inflation.

Sir Arthur congratulated France on her moral victory in the Ruhr, which had brought home to the German people for the first time that they had been fairly and squarely beaten.

The Associatioin adopted a resolution welcoming the Dominions representatives at the Imperial Conferences and hoping that their co-operation in finding means to bind the Empire more closely would succeed.

CHARGE HINTON OBTAINED TLS. 155 CREDIT BY FRAUD

British Court Case Centers About Credit In Shanghai

E. R. Hinton of 1187 Woosung Road was charged with obtaining credit for Tls. 155 by fraud other than false pretenses before Magistrate G. W. King in the British Police Court yesterday. After preliminary evidence was taken the case was remanded until today.

Before any evidence was taken Mr. Hinton's citizenship status came in for discussion. He admitted that he had not claimed British citizenship in the Mixed Court where he was recently sued, but explained that he had been informed that he would have to be tried in the Mixed Court because he was not registered at the British Consulate. He said, however, that he was a British subject and would like to be tried in the British Court on the charge.

In taking jurisdiction Magistrate King said he didn't like the idea of British subjects playing fast and loose, appearing in one court one day and another the next.

BOUGHT TIRES

Inspector Young, who prosecuted, said that Hinton had gone to the Dunlop Rubber Company on September 28 and ordered two motor-car outer covers and two inner tubes the cost being Tls. 77.81. The goods were not delivered to Hinton but to a man to whom he had sold them. On October 1, Inspector Young said, he ordered further goods of the same value which were delivered to him at 5 Foochow Road. In payment he gave a post-dated compradore order for Tls. 155.62. The compradore order was returned to the Dunlop company by the bank with the information that as far as they knew there was no 'Hinton & Company'.

Hinton acknowledged having received the goods but said that he had no intention of defrauding the Dunlop Rubber Company. His compradore had absconded, he said, and until he got another job he was not able to pay the bill.

In commanding the case Magistrate King explained that the police must prove that at the time he accepted the goods Hinton intended defrauding the Dunlop Company as the case was right on the border line between a criminal and civil action. The Magistrate pointed out that in Shanghai it was very easy to get credit. "Except when I ride on the trams—which is a rare occasion now," Mr. King said, "I never have to carry money". The case will be heard today.

Peking Wants 1924 Budgets Of Yamen

Tuchun Chi's Recommendations Pigeon-Holed; Arms Sent To Honan

(Dah Tong News Bureau)

Peking, Oct. 25.—The Cabinet has sent a circular to the various Yamen in the Metropolitan District, asking for their financial budget for 1924, which, the message said, should be based on the official estimates made in 1914.

According to a telegram from Wu Pei-fu to the Ministry of Communications, the steamers required from the transporation of arms from Hupeh to Yochow are being secured by his agent, Koli Hou, in conjunction with a man at Shanghai named Tseng, but he requests that the ministry should send a special representative to negotiate with the China Merchants' Steam Navigation, Ltd.

The Cabinet has decided to pigeon-hole the two recommendations made Tuchun Chi Shih-yuan of Kiangsu: the appointment of Sun Fah-shu as Anhui Governor and S. T. Wen as Vice-minister of Foreign Affairs.

'One Arabian Night"

Ernst Lubitsch, the creater of "Passion" and other screen master pieces, has produced his wonder picture in "One Arabian Night", which presents Pola Negri as a star. Certainly everyone who is fortunate enough to witness this Oriental drama will be transported through its unsurpassed splendour of settings, the vivid, colorful story that takes the spectator back through the ages, and the marvelous pantomime of the star, director, and their gifted company. Events so thrilling, so fascinating, so fraught with mystery and dramatic intensity follow each other with such lightning rapidity that one can only marvel over the stupendous task that must have been the director's and how easy the accomplishment of it. Only a master director could have achieved this unusual picture.

"One Arabian Night" will be on the Apollo screen for one week commencing Monday.

USELESS BULLETS TURN OUT TO BE GOOD OPIUM

Disguise Yunnan "Dope" In Attempt To Avert Seizures

The International Anti-Opium Association, at Peking publishes the following:

Owing to the action taken by the British Government some months ago, the French Government cabled to the Governor of Tonkin to stop any further export of Yunnan opium through that port. As stated at the League of Nations Council, it was hoped by this action to prevent the export of 250 tons of opium, the balance of the originally estimated quantity of 400 tons. From reports reaching the International Anti-Opium Association during the past months there is ample evidence that the disposal is now taking place not through the port of Tonkin, but through interior provinces. This the sociation has on several casions published reports by oreign eyewitnesses of militorconveys escorting Yunnan otary through Hunan for disposopium Hankow and elsewhere. Ol at newspaper (Peking "Yi ese Pao") reports of these l days mention one seiz Hankow of 50 boxes of officially sealed, and "Useless bullets from Headquarters of Yunnan and a still later seizure boxes containing 50,000 opium. Both these co were under Yunnan escort, and the officer in presumably found it difficu understand why the police disturb themselves, since traffic was open and above b Suggestions have been mad Hankow that, the opium s be returned to General Yuan ming of Yunnan, since it cann be used for the purchase of arms and ammunition at Hanyang. Should this be done it will throw upon the police responsibility of a greater breach of the law, than that which lies at the door of the Yunnan general. Surely it is time that the law be enforced without respect of persons, and the opium burnt. Yunnan has during the last two years done more than any other province in China to lower the prestige of the nation by its extensive cultivation and monopoly taxation The whole province during the past season was one vast poppy field. If production cannot be stopped, the law demands its destruction when seized; for if it be returned it will inevitably find another exit and China's humiliation at the last session of the League of Nations will be repeated by the action of her wilful militarists.

CHAUFFEUR WHO RAN DOWN WOMAN GIVEN SIX MONTHS

Truck Driver Failed To Stop Following Accident

Sentence of six months' imprisonment was imposed yesterday in the Mixed Court upon a Chinese motor truck chauffeur who ran down an aged woman in the Gordon Road district on October 22 and went on his way without stopping the machine.

The woman was taken to hospital but died within a few hours. The accused pleaded that he did not know he had run over anyone and that he did not hear the shouts of other pedestrians who called upon him to stop. The truck, which belongs to a Chinese company, was loaded high with bales of cotton, he said, which partly obstructed his view. There were two coolies inside the truck who were supposed to keep a lookout to the sides, but they had been on night work and were sleepy and did not see the woman is reported to be poor. Imports from Siam and Indo-China are on a very limited scale, the chaotic conditions in the South affecting business considerably. For instance, the effect of the disturbances in Canton and environs have been far reaching and twelve of the principal Cochin-China rice mills have shut down because of the closing of the South China rice market.

The tone of the Japanese rice market is easier, due to the good crop reports and the removal of the import duty of a yen per picul shortly after the catastrophe. Some of the Japanese merchants have been trying to dispose of the holdings of foreign rice in Tientsin.

Local prices of imported rice are steady. Rangoon rice is quoted at Tls. 5.15 per picul for the small mill grade and Siam No. 1 Tls. 6 per picul c.i.f. Shanghai. The demand is small.

It stops those weakening coughs that keeps them awake nights and wear out their strength. Every one knows it contains no narcotics. Fine, Knute! Glad to hear you speak up. How about this bird Eddie Johnson?

Say, what do you think I am, a cradle jumper? He's only a middleweight. I'm a heavy, and a good one at that, if anybody asks you.

Nobody will dispute the latter part of your statement, Knute. In fact there are many here who look upon you as a future champion. But as to Johnson being a middleweight, who told you that?

I have it on good authority, but why do you ask? Is there any doubt about it?

There is indeed, Knute. In fact, after seeing him in the ring last night there's as much doubt about it as there is about tomorrow being Christmas.

H'm, that's interesting! A big guy, hey?

Big as a barn, Knute.

So?

And fast, too.

H'm.

And a punch in each hand.

Looks good, hey? What did he do?

Last night they had him matched with one Al Belknap, which was a good name for Al, for no sooner had the Bel rung for the first round than Al was taking a knap.

Knocked him first round, hey?

Knocked him cold.

H'm

What say, Knute, about a match with this goof, now that you know that he is a real heavy?

H'm. Better call me back tomorrow; I'll talk to my manager.

Can do, Knute, Good night.

Good night yourself. Thanks for calling me up.

Don't mention it, Knute, ol' timer.

For the benefit of those who did not lisiten in on the above conversation it may be stated that this Eddie Johnson, who challenged Knute Hansen to a battle and whom Knute turned down on the ground that Johuson weighed but 160 pounds, looks like a real, bang-up, first rate heavyweight.

Last night, at the Stadium, he took on another heavy by the name of Al Belknap, and the first half of one round was sufficient for Mr. Belknap. Eddie quickly caught him a clip on the chin that sprawled him on his back, completely out.

It wasn't the fact that he flattened Belknap that impressed the fans; it was the workmanlike manner in which he did the job, and the way he handled himself in the ring. Johnson is big and fast and left no doubt in the minds of those who saw him last night that he would give Hansen a battle.

The rest of the card at last night's Stadium show did not offer much in the way of good fighting, although the ham and eggers went at their tasks with plenty of enthusiasm.

ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETE FOR BOXING SHOW

All Star Program To Be Carried Out At New Carlton

All arrangements are complete for the all star boxing show that is to be staged tonight at the New Carlton cafe, Bubbling Well Road. The advance seat sale has exceeded all expectations, and from all appearances the house will be packed tonight. It is certain that scores of women will be among the spectators.

All the boxers have finished their training and are now awaiting the tap of the gong tonight. Billy Tingle and Sailor Chadwick, principals in the main event, both expressed themselves as confident of winning, and each declared that he would have no excuses should he lose the decision.

The Carlton management announced last night that the ring has been completed, and would be placed on the floor and tested today. The ring is built in sections and will be taken apart and removed from the floor within twenty minutes after the bouts are over, so that dancing can proceed as usual. The Carlton will remain open until three o'clock.

The bouts tonight will be refereed by Dr. O'Hara, who will be assisted by two judges, probably Capt. Barrett and H. D. Rodger The seating arrangements have been very carefully worked out, so that ticket holders may be conducted to their places without confusion.

Altogether it looks like the best program of boxing ever staged in the East, not only from the standpoint of boxing talent involved, but also from the standpoint of arrangements.

Distance Record Now Claimed By Roman Swimmer

(Reuter's Service)

Rome, Sept. 11.—The record for long distance swimming is claimed by the Roman swimmer Armando Sannibale. Sannibale swam a distance of 100 kilometers recently, and contends that such a feat constitutes a record. The distance is roughly 60 miles, and ran on the Tiber from Rome to the sea. The time was 15 hours.

His accomplishment seems phenomenal, but it should be remembered that the Tiber is a very swiftly flowing river, the current moving at the rate of two or three miles an hour.

DEAL IN BOOTS CONTINUED IN BRITISH COURT

Defence Claims The Wrong Man Is Suing Them

Evidence for the plaintiff was completed the first defense witnesses were heard when the case in the British Supreme Court in which Shakur A. Ibragimoff is suing the Siberian Agricultural Corporation, Ltd. for Yen 22,476 was continued yesterday before Sir Skinner Turner.

The plaintiff alleges that he left American army boots with the defendant company in Vladivostok which were sold by them without his authorisation for the amount claimed. The chief evidence for the plaintiff yesterday was given by Dr. Shendrikoff, who denied that the boots were not the property of the plaintiff, but his own property.

For the defense Mr. R. F. C. Master said that they contended they were being sued by the wrong person. The boots, he said, were held by Dr. Shenrikoff as trustee for the Cossack Bank and the plaintiff was merely a clerk for the Doctor who was used in an attempt to cloak to conceal the Doctor's business dealings from the Russian authorities.

In answer to a question by Sir Skinner Mr. Master said that someone had the boots now—whom they did not know. The case was adjourned for further hearing.

The Dead Hand In China

At the first meeting of the Royal Asiatic Society yesterday Dr. H. Chatley read a paper on the rule of the dead in China. He commenced by pointing out the immense amount of energy devoted to funeral and ancestral rites, and discussed briefly the social advantages of ancestor worship. He then dealt with the so-called "Euhemerist" Theory which maintains that all religious practices (as distinguished from myths) originate in the worship of the dead, and pointed out how well China illustrates this hypothesis.

A description of the ancestral hall and its functions was then given, followed by a comparison of ancestor-worship among the Teutonic ancestors of the European peoples with that of China. He mentioned many curious examples of the survival of bloody sacrifices and referred briefly to Sir James Frazer's generally accepted hypothesis as to the universal worship of agricultural deities.

He concluded with some notes on the antiquity and generality of mound burial and on the psychological character of the worship of death.

SEATS NOW SELLING AT ROBINSON'S

Read what the Highest Authority on Motion Picture Production said about it.

The Committee on Critique of the National Board of Review said in

OFFICIAL REPORT

"This vivid, swift moving picture is the peer of Oriental dramas on the screen. It has the true atmosphere of an Arabian Nights' tale and must rank as one of the exceptiona photoplays of the year. It has both dramatic intensity and comic relief of an unusual order. The acting of Pola Negri may be said to be the finest and most convincing of her career before the American public and the supporting cast is one of great ability."

recognise several governments, in other words face conditions as they are. Their foreign policy must harmonise theory and facts before any permanent solution can be reached.

"This contrast between actual conditions and theories as to what conditions should be, between things as they are and paper pretenses, strikes the stranger more vividly than it does one who by long association has become accustomed to them. The protecting mantle of extraterritoriality, the most conspicuous of the foreigners' special privileges in China, is spread over all to the damage of China and the embarrassement of foreigners. If the foreigner wants to stand of behind this rare privilege he must jealously prevent its abuse.

SAFETY FIRST

"It is difficult to impress the bandit, the excited soldier or the ordinary citizen who cannot even read his own language and much less knows anything about treaties, that the property and person of the foreigner is not within his sphere of violence. In fact, it is not expected in any other country, that its cities and fields will be safe for the foreigner if they are not safe for its own citizens. Each incident can be taken up, made the basis for volumnous diplomatic correspondence, ample proof furnished that it was a violation of treaty, apologies and idemnities exacted, but no permanent cure effected nor will the incidents be stopped until a government is secured for the country.

"When these same victims carelessly extend their special privileges to those not entitled to them, to Chinese whose interests belong outside of foreign protection and whose duty is to stand of fall with their own country, it is even harder to enforce respect for these privileges. Renting foreign flags to protect Chinese owned ships or property ashore, storing Chinese goods and harboring Chinese partisans on foreign premises whenever there is sign of trouble and, worst of all, the abuse of the concessions by any person who can purchase or rent a home in them, make it extremely difficult for foreign powers to protect the rights of those who are entitled to it and who scrupulously avoid local entanglements.

"The ship captain who dashes for the life boat at the first sign of a storm is any unheard of individual. The official who has a home awaiting him in a foreign concession to which he plans to flee at the first indication that his government is ready to flounder, can hardly be trusted to keep the ship of state off the rocks. Civilised nations offer their shores as a haven for the political refugee but the liberality with which the foreign concessions welcome bandit chiefs, broken politicians and wealthy merchants, fleeing either from deserved punishment or to avoid the responsibility of setting their own country to rights, is a most flexible extension of this humane principle. They vitiate the foreigner's right to special exemptions, deprive the country beyond of leadership which should share and guide its fortunes, and in many instances are merely a temporary resting place to foment more trouble on the first opportunity."

DIPLOMACY vs. FACTS

"The Lincheng incident is an excellent illustration of the difference between academic diplomacy and hard boiled conditions. Nobody says the tuchun of Shantung directed that holdup yet he was technically responsible because he had not exterminated the bandits in his province. The same may be said of Tsao Kun, inspector general of the province if the technical responsibility is carried further. The diplomatic corps took umbrage because the tuchun, removed at their request received a perfunctory honor. The explanation that it was a printer's error appeased them

Beautification Campaign Headed By Blind Man

A. E. Van Petten

A. E. Van Petten, newly elected President of the Chamber of Commerce of Topeka, Kansas, who is totally blind, has started a beautification campaign for the city. Every schoolchild in the city has a part in the work, wearing red tags bearing the pledge: "I won't pick flowers or break off branches; I won't cut across lawns, because it kills the grass; I want Topeka to be more beautiful."

So much for saving face. Yet as to facts, the tuchun moved to a foreign concession—& might be supposed that if he were such a bad character he would not be permitted on these foreign premises—and Marshal Tsao received their official greetings as president.

"Carrying the actualities still further, what has been accomplished in regard to the bandit situation as a whole? The Lincheng incident has consumed a lot of stationery, the captives will be paid as the foreign powers hold enough of China's revenues but like so many other cases it bids fair to pass on as an isolated incident. In the weeks since then China has not come a step nearer, in fact, it is farther from having a government which can prevent such outrages and make the country safe. The Lincheng incident was heralded around the world because of the number of foreign captives bagged. The number of individuals picked up by similar outrages, day to day since that event, is rapidly approaching the total of Lincheng. Worse than that three of them have already died, Lincheng had only one foreign fatality, and others are in precarious condition

CHINA'S DEBTS

"Another much discussed phase of China which will not be better until the country has a government are its debts. The per capitta debt of China is abont $4. That of the United States is $440 (Mex.) We all know there is more chance of getting $440 out of some debtors than there is of getting $4 out of others. However it is evident that China could easily pay all its debts if the revenues went to a government. The plan now is to increase the customs duties, care for certain insufficiently secured foreign and domestic loans and allow a little for China. Some of these loans were made in good faith, others were political speculations, some had no security, others have revenues which never reach the government, some are over due and others have no dates of maturity.

"It is a question whether a shrewd banker from home who would not loan a thin dime without security, is entitled to have the united backing of the customs-treaty-power-governments assist him in collecting such reckless loans. From China's interests such a proceeding is like a creditors' committee taking more of the firms revenues, allowing something for the complaisant directors to put in their pockets as customary, but not doing anything to put the firm on its feet or increase its earning capacity. From the interests of the outside powers, it gets back to the need of a government in China. Increasing the import dues, without a government which can prevent the levying of likin and other local squeeze, will merely mean that much additional burden and handicap on foreign importers.

"Recent developments indicate that the diplomatic harmony of playing at government in Peking may be broken by a new entry. In China the call for a new government, a rival to the one of the Chihli party in Peking has been issued. What fighting strength it will materialise, where its capital will be and other details remain for the future but it can start playing at government immediately. Though the diplomatic corps may refuse to play with it, sticking to its rules that all other governments in China must discuss their affairs with consular corps, this new government probably will have a playmate, forcing all hands to stop playing and get down to business.

SOVIET SEEKS AID

Moscow has a mission in Peking. The diplomatic corps is reported to have cautioned Peking not to recognise Soviet Russia. In other words Russia is put off the playground. Dr. Sun Yat Sen says that he, Chang Tso-lin, Tuan Chi-jui and an imposing list of other real leaders in their respective fields in China do not want to play with Peking anyway. There is no reason why their new government and Russia should not have mutual interests which will make the playing in Peking frivolous.

"It is not difficult to foresee the possibilities of the situation. Russia and Mukden already have a subject for discussion—that political anomoly, the Chinese Eastern railroad, the only railroad without a country. It has a president appointed by Peking which does not have any real authority in Manchuria, is operated by Russians who do not recognise their own government, and is under the protection of the Allies whose military mobilisation is limited to typewriters and stickers. It is in Manchuria and it belongs to Russia. When Mr. Karakhan was en route to Peking, he stopped for a week in Mukden to discuss this and other affairs with Marshal Chang. Other representatives of his mission later were in Canton calling on Dr. San. It is evident that the Soviet mission is not bound by the theories that there is only one government in China.

"If a strong man could enforce a government over all China, the foreign powers might stand aside and let him carry his campaign to victory. China is vast, the interests of its various sections are different, its languages are varied and its people have as many rivalitves as all Europe. Each group have their own ideas, ambitions and prejudices and it seems a waste of time and theorising to imagine that any one man can rule them all. Besides the powers have recognised China as a democracy and a dictatorship, even though masked behind a president, is not democratic.

"What China can have is a uniting of her different elements, her different peoples and different leaders into one government at Peking. The outside influences which have so much to say about China could be the most potent influence in securing such a harmonious result."

National Educational Survey Being Carried Out

Conference To Be Held In Shanghai On November 1 And 2

The National Association for the Advancement of Education has arranged for a survey of primary and secondary schools throughout the whole country. The China Christian Educational Association is co-operating and the survey has been completed in Peking, Tientsin and Tsinan and is now under way in Nanking and adjoining cities.

The setting-up conference for Shanghai and neighboring centres will be held at the Laborers' Museum of the Chung Hwa Vocational School, West Gate, Shanghai, on November 1st and 2nd. The object of this setting-up conference is to explain to principals and administrative officers the objectives and methods of the survey and to train a "Group of Examiners" who will carry it out. These Examiners should consist of college professors, school principals, supervisors, teachers who are college or normal graduates, and others of equivalent qualifications.

Groups from a number of outports near Shanghai will be in attendance, and examiners from outside Shanghai should spend at least 3 days before returning to survey their own cities. Each institution must pay the travelling expenses, or its share thereof, for delegates to the setting-up conference and purchase its own printed test materials. The cost of these will be slight.

Government and Christian educators are co-operating in this work, and any institution or group of institutions in a center is at liberty to send representatives to receive training and later conduct a local survey. The object of this survey is to work out national and regional standards with which the individual institution may compare its work in each subject of each grade, and thus be in a position to know whether the work it is doing is up to standard.

The survey is in the charge of Prof. E. L. Terman, of Peking University, as director, and Prof. Chu, of the Peking Higher Normal College, as associate director. Enquires should be addressed to Mr. King Chu, at the Commercial Press; Mr. Chang Pen-ing, Kiangsu Educational Association, West Gate, or the Rev. E. H. Cressy, of the East China Christian Educational Association, 20 Museum Road, who are members of the local committee of arrangements.

Students From Shanghai Making Splendid Records In American Schools

S. A. S. Prominent At Oberlin—New Alumni Association Is Formed With Robert Rugh As President

BY TOMMY GRAFTON
(Special to The China Press)

Clinton, S. C. Sept. 29.—With the reopening of the American colleges the alumni of the Shanghai American School attending universities in the United States are once more gathering on the campuses.

Many old students from the S. A. S. attended the Annual Reunion, which was held a short time ago at Oberlin, Ohio. Oberlin is now a stronghold of students from China and many of them are prominent figures in school and campus life.

A new American School Alumni Association was formed at the reunion for the purpose of furthering, in all possible ways, the interests of the old school, and to promote athletics and better school spirit in general. The office of President was given unanimously to Mr. Robert Rugh, now a sophomore at Oberlin. Mr. Rugh did not graduate from the Shanghai American School but was a student there for several years with a remarkable record in many lines of activities.

ALUMNI 'NOOZE'

An Alumni 'Nooze' with many news items regarding old students now in the United States will be published by the new Association from time to time, according to plans formulated at the reunion. The first issue will be ready about Christmas, and students in colleges all over the country have pledged their loyal support to the undertaking.

Several American School students are making good records at Oberlin. Oberlin is a little town southwest of Cleveland and is primarily an educational town and is famous for its educational institutions. Oberlin College is named in honor of Jean Frederic Oberlin, a famous German Protestant pastor and philosopher. Pastor Oberlin was born at Strassburg where he studied theology, later becoming pastor at Waldbach in the valley of the Vosges on the borders of Alsace and Lorraine.

PRACTICAL IDEAS

Pastor Oberlin began his work by advocating practical as well as theoretical ideas. First he began constructing roads through the valley and erecting bridges and got the peasants in the locality to follow suit. Then he introduced an improved system of agriculture, got the farmer-folk to erect substantial, better cottages, and introduced the various industrial arts. Before he died he also founded a travelling library, established schools at all the villages in his parish, and two or three special kindergartens.

The village of Oberlin was founded by the pastor of a church in Elyria, Ohio, and a missionary among the Choctaw Indians in Mississippi in 1833, who founded the Oberlin Collegiate Institute the next year. A theological institute was started in 1835 and the attendance was swelled immediately by the enrollment of forty students from a theological institute in Cincinnati where discussions of slavery, then one of the foremost topics of the day, were banned.

CO-EDUCATION

The name was changed to Oberlin College in 1950 and was the first American college to adopt co-education of the sexes. It was also the pioneer American school in the coeducation of the white and black races. Just preceding and during the Civil War it was an important antislavery center. It is noted as a school at which students are for the greater part self-supporting, two-thirds of the men and a large number of the women students working their way through college.

It is in such a college with such a splendid record that many former Shanghai students are now studying. Mr. W. B. Elterich, a member of the S. A. S. class of 1921 is a strong football prospect for this Fall. Last year he was chosen a member of the "All Class" team.

Mr. G. P. Haskell,' 20, has a brilliant scholarship record, being the first honor man in the class for the past two years. Mr. Haskell was also a member of the varsity tennis team last year.

STAR ATHLETE

Mr. Robert Rugh is perhaps the best all-round athlete Shanghai has sent to Oberlin. Mr. Rugh made his class numerals in his Freshman year in basketball, tennis, and baseball, and is considered a very likely candidate for the varsity teams. While in the Shanghai American School he was a member of every team in the school and is without question one of the best athletes ever developed at the S. A. S. Besides his athletic honors Mr. Rugh was President of his class last year and is now a member of the Men's Senate.

Miss Elizabeth Rugh was vice-president of her brother's class last year and took second honors in scholarship.

BY TOMMY GRAFTON
(Special to The China Press)

Clinton, S. C. Sept. 30.—Former students at the Shanghai American School are taking a prominent part in activities at other schools than Oberlin of which I wrote in my last letter to THE CHINA PRESS.

Mr. William Lockwood, who upon his graduation last year, was awarded a scholarship by the members of the Shanghai Rotary Club for the service he rendered to the school, is now a Freshman at Depauw University. It is reported that he will shortly become a member of the Phi Psi fraternity.

M. Alex. S. Moffett, who also won a scholarship from the Rotarians for service to his school, has matriculated at Washington and Lee University.

Among the men at Davidson College, Clinton, S. C., the stronghold of Southern Presbyteranism, are Mr. Henry Martyn White, Mr. Norman and Mr. Paul Patterson, brothers of the present President of the American School Students' Association, and Mr. William Woods.

(Mr. Thomas Grafton, who during the time he was a student at the Shanghai American School, and who is now acting as correspondent for The China Press concerning the activities of former Shanghai students in the United States, is also a student at Davidson College.—Ed.)

Mr. Williard W. Bartlett, for three years the Principal of the Shanghai American School, is now in New York raising money for the further activities and expansion of the school. His address this year will be 347 Madison Avenue, New York City.

Peril In Germany Is Not So Great, Asserts Masaryk

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Oct. 24.—President Masakyk at a reception to London journalists, declared: "I went to France to give thanks for what France had done for us. I could not miss thanking Britain also. I also desired as far as it was in my power to maintain the Entente which exists between Great Britain and France. This Entente has had the notable result of giving to the small European nations, of which we are a part, the moral security and protection they need."

Questioned on the present situation in Germany, President Masaryk gave as his opinion that the situation was not so dangerous as certain circles appeared to believe.

THE Earl of Craven and Countess Cathcart have eloped from London and sailed from Southampton for South Africa, where they declare they will live. Armed Robbers Steal $104 In Rice Shop Raid Armed robbers entered a rice shop at 184-5 Annam Road on Wednesday evening shortly after 6 o'clock and escaped with $104, according to a report made to the Municipal Police yesterday by the shop owner, Zie Hung-hsun. The robbers leaped over the counter and intimidated the shop assistants after which they raided the cash-box. No alarm was raised and they escaped through Hart Road into the French Concession.

General Barnett, Commander Of Marines, Retires

(Exclusive China Press)

San Francisco, Oct. 25.—Major-General George Barnett, former Commander-in-Chief of the United States Marine Corps, and now in command of the Department of the Pacific, retired from active service today.

General Barnett, a native of Wisconsin, graduated from the United States Naval Academy in 1881 and spent two years at sea as a midshipman before entering the Marine branch. He gradually rose in rank until he assumed command of the Marine Corps in 1910.

He was one of the most popular officers in the service and is generally accredited with being the man who put the Marines on the map with their proud boast of 'first to fight on land or sea'.

Exchange Fluctuations

Asia Banking Corporation

October 25, 1923

Spot bar silver was up ⅛d. and forward down ⅛d. in London yesterday. The New York price advanced to 68⅞ cents and the London-New York cross rate is unchanged at 449⅝.

The only change in our official quotations here today was a rise in the Franc rate to 1185. Our market in the early part of the morning was firm but eased off slightly later in the day.

At one time there were sellers of Sterling at 3s. 1⅝d. for October delivery, 3s. 1⅝d. November-December and 3s. 1¼d. January.

However, at the close there were buyers rather than sellers at these rates.

While Gold Dollars at one time were done as high as 70¼, at the close there were no sellers at better than 70. There were sellers of Yen at the close at 69⅞ with buyers at 69¾.

Banks were quoting 3s. 1⅞d., 71¾ and 1240 for Sterling, Gold Dollar and Franc bills respectively.

India bought silver in London yesterday and China bought and sold, the market closing steady. New York report their market as dull and quiet.

Exchange Market

In their weekly circular on the exchange market, Messrs. Maitland, Fearon and Brand write as follows:

Exchange:—The London price of silver for "spot" after remaining quiet in the early part of the week, jumped to 32⅜d. yesterday, and today receded ⅛d. to 31⅛d. which is still ⅛d. higher than last week. The rate for forward delivery at 31⅞d. is ⅜d. higher. Our official rate for T.T. on London went to 3s. 1d. but today is 3s. 0⅝d. up since our last circular. Exchange business in connection with "Imports" and "Exports" has been small, though at the close there is a good demand for T.T. on London, while exports remain in a stagnant condition. Both the London silver market and our "Exchange Market" have ruled very unsteady during the week, and the undertone does not appear strong. In America, where silver is available, fluctuations in prices have been slight. Our stock of silver is again down owing to shipments of Bar Silver up country. There are advices of about Tls. 6.000,000 —(value) silver due to arrive here before the middle of November.

Our stocks of silver are reported as follows:

Sycee and Bar Silver Tls. 24,530,000, a decrease of Tls. 735,000.

Chinese and Mexican Dollars $39,080,000, a decrease of $1,740,000.

Estimated value Tls. 52,667,000 as against Tls. 66,960,000 held at this time last year.

Shanghai Pahang Rubber Estate

The annual meeting of the Shanghai Pahang Rubber Estate, Ltd. was held yesterday. The Chairman's speech was as follows:

The report and accounts having been in your hands for some time I will, with your permission, take them as read.

Since the last report, the producing area has been increased by some 20 acres but the total planted area still remains the same. The non-producing area of 277 acres is now all of a tappable age and certain fields will be brought into the tapping round during the current year in order to rest some of the older areas. Included in the reserve area of 285 acres is an area of 162 acres applied for in 1919. The title for this block of land has now been received and the conditions governing this grant provide that the whole area with the exception of 16 acres reserved for the planting of food-stuffs is to be planted up within two years from the date of grant, viz., March 15, 1923. This means that 146 acres will have to be planted up by March, 1925. Work has already commenced on felling this area which, when planted up, will bring the planted area up to 902 acres. Should conditions improve in the near future further extensions are contemplated in order to bring the planted area of the Estate up to 1,000 acres, and thus placing the Estate on a more economical basis with regard to the overhead charges in the cost of production.

The "All-in" cost for the year works out at the fairly reasonable figure of 9.80d. per lb. This is slightly above the figure for last year but it must not be forgotten that we are now working on a restricted output which naturally means higher costs. The year's crop was some 18,000 lbs. below last years figure but this reduction has been more than compensated for by the better prices realised since the introduction of compulsory restriction. As the Company has only had the benefit of these better prices for a portion of its financial year, the result of the year's working cannot be regarded as unsatisfactory.

The nett profit for the year, after making the usual allowances for depreciation, amounts to Tls. 9,670.05 and after deducting the debit balance of Tls. 1,213.47 brought forward from last year's Accounts, there remains a balance of Tls. 8,459.18 standing to the credit of Profit and Loss Account which the Directors recommend carrying forward to next year's accounts.

As regards the working of the Estate, there is very little for me to comment upon. The weeding cost per acre per month over the whole Estate for the year was 70 cts. as compared with 98 cts. for the previous year. In order to conserve top soil grass was allowed to grow in some of the fields during the wet months and the whole Estate is now clean weeded and in very good order. During the year only diseased trees were taken out but during the current year all fields are to receive systematic attention for thinning out purposes. The Estate has been fairly free from diseases and expenditure under this heading has been more in the nature of prevention than treatment. The labor position is quite satisfactory and there is no difficulty at the present time in obtaining a good class of coolies locally. With the exception of an occasional outbreak of fever, the health of the force has been good.

The Smoke House containing 13,542 lbs. of sheet rubber was destroyed by fire in January. The building and contents were fully covered by insurance and a new Smoke House has been erected at a cost of $2,950.

Under the Export of Rubber (Restriction) Enactment, the Estate is at present allowed to export 155,160 lbs. As the amount is regulated by the price of rubber, this figure is subject to revision. It is estimated, however, that we shall be able to produce the crop mentioned at an "All-in" cost of approximately 37 cts. per lb., and I have no doubt that in actual working this figure will be improved upon.

The Estate was visited regularly by Major G. Nevill Stevens whose reports have been exceptionally favourable and I would like to take this opportunity of expressing the Directors' appreciation of the good work done by our Manager, Mr. F. Birkemose who continued to manage the Estate single-handed during the year.

A forward sale of 2½ tons monthly July to December 1923 at a price of 66¾ cts. per lb. f.o.b. was made during the year.

That is all I have to say gentlemen, if any Shareholder has any questions to ask, I shall be pleased to answer to the best of my ability.

The following resolutions were passed:

"That the Report and Accounts for the year ended June 30th, 1923 together with the recommendation as to appropriation of balance at credit of Profit and Loss Account as presented be accepted."

"That Mr. C. J. L. Stewart be re-elected a Director of the Company."

"That Messrs. Lowe, Bingham and Matthews be re-elected Auditors to the Company at an annual remuneration of Tls. 300 for Shanghai and Penang."

WHEN YOUR LITTLE ONE IS UNWELL

Try This Simple Remedy.

Almost all the ailments of infants and young children arise in the first place from stomach and bowel troubles. It is usually because the child is not digesting its food properly and the bowels are failing to do their work that the little one is fretful and unwell. In cases such as this nothing is as good as the Canadian children's remedy, Baby's Own Tablets.

These Tablets are especially made for children; can be given freely without fear of harm to the youngest infant. They are an everready remedy for infantile indigestion, constipation, colic, teething pains, croup, colds and worms. Chemists sell them, or post free, 60 cents the vial, from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60 Kiangse Road, Shanghai.

Get Details Of Dollar's Purchase Of Seven Ships

Details of the purchase by the Robert Dollar Company of seven United States Shipping Board vessels for round-the-world service, which was announced by telegraph in THE CHINA PRESS at the time, are contained in San Francisco newspapers just arrived as follow:

Developments in the Pacific Coast shipping industry came in quick succession late this week when the Shipping Board finally took its first action upon the sale of its routes, disposed of its fleet of seven "502" liners to the Robert Dollar Company for the first round-the-world passenger and freight service and sold two freighters and the west coast of South America route to W. R. Grace and Co. Highlights on the developments are:

Confirmation by Capt. Robert Dollar of eastern dispatches that his company had bought seven "502" liners, the President Hayes, President Harrison, President Adams, President Garfield, President Munroe, President Polk and President Van Buren, for a fortnightly round-the-world passenger and freight service from San Francisco, constituting the greatest expansion of privately-owned American shipping since the war.

Purchase by the Grace Line of the 7500-ton freighters Rotarian and Orcus to augment its service with the Colusa and Santa Cruz between the North Pacific and the West Coast.

Announcement by the General Steamship Corporation, managing operators of the Shipping Board's West Coast line, that it would continue its service with other tonnage, following notification to make no commitments for the Shipping Board's account after the November steamer, the Depere.

Withdrawal of the liners President Hayes and President Harrison from the Swayne and Hoyt Line to the east coast of South America, discontinuing the passenger but not the freight service from the Pacific Coast to the River Plate.

CAUSES SURPRISE

The purchase by the Dollar Line of the "502" fleet came as a distinct surprise to Pacific Coast shipping circles. Captain Dollar said that this deal was distinct from the bidding between the Pacific Mail and the Admiral Oriental Line for, respectively, five and ten "535" liners in the trans-Pacific route. The negotiations for the "502's" were closed by N. Stanley Dollar, son of Captain Dollar and president of the Admiral Oriental Line, who also has been conducting the negotiations for the trans-Pacific route. The belief prevailed in shipping circles, however, that a decision in the "535" bidding would be forthcoming very soon.

The seven "502's" are expected to be delivered by November, Captain Dollar said, although definite word as to the delivery dates will not be received for a few days. The vessels will supplement the present round-the-world service of the Robert Dollar Company, and their passenger accommodations, which include about ninety first-class, will be utilised, he said. While there have been a number of round-the-world freight lines, this will be the first regular round-the-world passenger service. Sailings are to be maintained, on a twice-a-month basis, the route being as follows: San Francisco, Yokohama, Kobe, Shanghai, Hongkong, Manila, Singapore, Batavia, Soerabaia, Genoa, Marseilles, Boston, New York and thence through the Panama Canal to San Francisco.

Some of the freighters now in this service will be kept on the run, and others will be diverted to other routes, Captain Dollar said. The British steamer Robert Dollar, largest in the fleet, is suitable for passenger carrying and probably will be fitted for this purpose, he added. All the details of the service have not been worked out, said Captain Dollar for the reason that the company had no previous announcement that its offer had been accepted.

The seven "502" liners were built by the New York Shipbuilding Corporation at Camden, N. J., in 1920 and 1921. They were originally designed as transports. Three of them formerly were operated by the Pacific Mail from San Francisco to East India, Two, the President Harrison, were recently placed in the Swayne and Hoyt service to the east coast of South America. The other five are operating as one cabin ships between New York and Europe, under the United States Lines flag.

The vessels are oil-burners, 502.1 feet long, have a beam of 62.2 feet and a depth of 28.3 feet. They are rated at about 14 knots. The President Adams and President Garfield are 10.588 tons gross and 6200 ton net. The President Polk is 10,513 gross and 6160 net, while the others are 10,533 gross and 6195 net. Captain Dollar would not disclose the terms of sale.

Both the Dollar Line and the Grace Line have guaranteed the continuous operations of their purchases in their respective routes for five years, the Shipping Board announced. Captain Dollar confirmed this with regard to the liners and added that they would be kept under the American flag.

Sale of the steamers Rotarian and Orcus to the Grace Line is understood to have carried with it the agreement of the Shipping Board to exclude its tonnage, either through direct operaataion, allocation of sale, from this trade. Notice was given the General Steamship Corporation that it should make no bookings beyond November, indicating the removal of the Shipping Board line. The following statement was made, however, by Harry S. Scott, president of the General:

"The General Steamship Corporation will maintain its service to the west coast of South America with other tonnage. We will not be driven out of the trade. The details will be announced later, but we wish to assure our shippers that there will be no temporary abandonment of our service."

Official of the Grace Line at San Francisco would not discuss the purchase, pending official confirmation of the transaction. The company operates the steamers Colusa and Santa Cruz formerly in the Pacific Mail's East India service, in this route. They have limited passenger accomodations. It is asserted that the freighters will be operated in conjunction with Colusa and Santa Cruz from Puget Sound, Portland and San Francisco to Ecuador, Peru and Chile.

The Rotarian and Orcus were built by the Todd Drydock and Construction Corporation at Tacoma in 1920 and 1919, respectively. The Rotarian is 4747 tons gross or 2925 net: length, 380.3, beam, 52.1 and depth, 27, feet. Both vessels have been running between New York and the west coast of South America.

Swayne and Hoyt have not yet been advised when the President Harrison and President Hayes will be taken off the River Plate run. Their removal not only will eliminate the passenger service, but also will halt the refrigerator service. Swayne and Hoyt said they did not believe the board would allocate passenger carriers to replace the two "502's."

THE MOST LAVISHLY BEAUTIFUL DRAMA OF MARRIED LIFE EVER PRODUCED

CECIL B. DeMILLE'S

Supreme Screen Success

By JEANIE MacPHERSON

What are the duties of a wife to a husband who steadily drags her downward.

What shall she do when another offers a fine, true love that would lift her up?

These are the questions asked and answered in "Forbidden Fruit." A drama warm with the flesh and blood of living men and women.

Dressed in all the glowing color and luxury that DeMille weaves like a cloth of gold.

"FORBIDDEN FRUIT" 8 PARTS

A Paramount Picture

The man had fallen in love with a woman he did not know.

Never dreaming this radiant creature the drudging, unhappy wife of a wastrel.

For her Cinderella's heart had leaped to taste of joy and luxury for one night. And when love answered love.....

The rest is a drama that goes to the very bottom of marriage. Glowing with the color, richness and fashion that only DeMille can paint on the screen.

Time At 9.15 p.m. Every Night
Matinees: 5.30 Every Day

Admission $1.50, $1.00 and 60 cts.
Matinee: $1.00, 60 cts. & 40 cts.

The Third Party Bugaboo

THE National Progressive Party, according to a special dispatch from the United Press association to THE CHINA PRESS has issued an invitation to the leading progressive and liberal elements in American politics to gather at Omaha next month and once more discuss ways and means for floating a third party to enter the coming elections in the United States. Without wishing to appear to be too much of a standpat organ THE CHINA PRESS would like to express the opinion that the Omaha vision is a forlorn hope.

Progressives, liberals and radicals have attempted a third party movement in the United States many times before this and all have met with dismal failure despite the fact that many of them began under much more auspicious circumstances than the present. Theodore Roosevelt came the nearest to welding the liberal elements into one cohesive, worthwhile machine, but even the great dynamic Roosevelt was not equal to the occasion. At the head of the third party ticket himself—one of the most popular men ever in American politics—Teddy went down to an ignominious defeat before the scholarly and retiring Woodrow Wilson.

Only a few weeks ago THE CHINA PRESS carried a dispatch telling of the lamentable failure of the Liberal gathering in Chicago. The parlor-Socialists and the dyed-in-the-wool radicals refused to be hitched the same cart. Considerable verbal agitation was expressed, and finally the radical elements kicked over the traces and assumed a dictatorship over the convention. It was only one of many failures. Various individual leaders have attempted to rally the progressive and liberal hosts around them. William Randolph Hearst, with the tremendous advertising power of his score of newspapers and magazines behind him has failed to inculcate the third party idea in the minds of even his thousands of readers. It simply won't go.

The conference called for November in Omaha would like to see Senator Johnson of California, Senator Borah of Idaho, Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin and possibly Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania get in the same boat and pull in unison instead of scattering their efforts toward liberalising the Republican party. Such a boat, however, could only make progress up Salt River.

Senator Borah, unquestionably the leading thinker in the United States Senate and one of the most prominent workers toward liberal ideas in the Republican party, has long since expressed his ideas on the subject. He refused to desert the Republican party even at the behest of his close friend and warm political admirer, Roosevelt, at a time when a third party looked like it might be successful. Governor Pinchot, the 'hero' of the recent coal strike, is just coming to the front again after a temporary eclipse following the death of Roosevelt, and will certainly not jeopardise his chance to become a strong influence in the party and possibly obtain the nomination for the presidency in some future convention by flirting with the third party managers.

Senator Johnson of California has admitted quite frankly he would like to be President of the United States. That admission alone is enough to insure Senator Johnson's staying in the loyal ranks. He is too canny a politician to get seriously mixed up in another almost certain failure. And this Senator Johnson has trouble enough on his hands among his own party followers in California already. He will not have time to go gallivanting around the country spreading third party ideas until after he insures himself of future support in California.

Through this process of elimination we have only Senator La Follette of Wisconsin left. The Wisconsin Senator is, admittedly a stormy petrel in politics and is very apt to do anything. He might even join in a third party movement, but he most certainly would demand that he be the presidential nominee of the third party before he would give it one ounce of support. It is impossible to set up a third party in the United States that will successfully weld the various discordant elements together, despite the optimistic call for an Omaha convention. We doubt that the convention itself will ever be called.

Independence In The Philippines

Leaders of the opposition to the authority of Governor-General Leonard Wood in the Philippines must at least be given credit for the courage to speak without reserve regarding their purpose in defying that authority. They have, by their action, arrayed the legislative branch of the insular government against the executive branch, represented by the Governor-General, standing as the representative of the United States. Manuel Quezon, president of the Philippine Senate, seconded by Manuel Roxas, Speaker of the House of Representatives, makes it clear that those Filipinos for whom he speaks prefer, instead of that temporary form of government maintained under direction of the President and Congress of the United States, a government similar to that maintained by the self-governing British colonies, where the power and authority of the governed are virtually supreme, says the Christian Science Monitor.

Perhaps it is not for the American people to regard too harshly any sane and considered movement in behalf of that inalienable right of self-determination which they are bound, by tradition and sentiment, to defend. The chief consideration is not the right, but the wisdom of such an assumption of power by the people of the Philippines. History has been made rapidly in the islands since that May morning when Admiral Dewey raised the Stars and Stripes there in defiance of established Spanish authority. The peoples most affected have traveled a long way out of the darkness of ignorance and superstition since 1898. But the journey undertaken is not one often so quickly completed. The British colonists who established the American Republic were men and women of a higher civilization than existed in the Philippines a quarter of a century ago. And yet they did not for a much longer period pretend to assert their right to self-determination. The process was a new and untried one at that time, it is true, and not one carelessly undertaken. That it was successful does not prove that it can be adapted to the desires and ambitions of those less fitted to the tasks of self-government and complete autonomy.

Even those in the United States and elsewhere who have been inclined to regard unfavorably what they declared to be an experiment in American imperialism, would not willingly see destroyed or nullified the unselfish efforts which have been made in behalf of genuine progress in the Philippines. Hasty or ill-considered action now, or even later, might lead to serious reversions among an ambitious people not yet entirely prepared for the task which they are so ready to assume. And yet there should not be permitted to continue anything even faintly suggestive of domination. Freedom is the ultimate goal of the Filipino people. The only remaining question, or doubt, is as to their fitness, now or in the immediate future, to assume their newer responsibilities.

China has the largest standing army in the world but even the inquisitive, rumor-mongging Chinese papers can't keep up with its moves.

A Calendar Romance

Our hero was the common sort,
when all is said and done;
He worked his head off daily and was out to get the MON.

The reason for his diligence was common-place, 'tis true—
He tried to swell his salary so it would suffice for TUE.

And maybe that's the reason why
one day he lost his head,
And falling on his knees, he cried, "Oh, maiden, wilt thou WED?"

He may have thought this sudden, but it seemed not so to her;
She lisped a quick acceptance and said forcibly, "Yeth, THUR."

But when they went to keeping house he feared that he would die;
For, oh, that modern maiden could neither bake nor FRI.

She could not run a bungalow, or even run a flat,

As Calvin Coolidge Thinks

THE NEW PRESIDENT PLEADS FOR BROADER FAITH IN THE PEOPLE

"Statutes Must Appeal To More Than Material Welfare"—"Don't Expect To Build Up The Weak By Pulling Down The Strong"—"Laws Must Rest On Eternal Foundation Of Righteousness."

THE CHINA PRESS today publishes the third of a series of articles made up wholly of extracts from the speeches and addresses of Calvin Coolidge which reflect his opinions on government and on political, social and economic questions. They were made while he was President of the Senate of Massachusetts and Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. They were compiled with his permission and published in book form under his personal copyright.

FUNDAMENTALS OF AMERICAN GOVERNMENT

We need a broader, firmer, deeper faith in the people—a faith that men desire to do right, that the Commonwealth is founded upon a righteousness which will endure, a reconstructed faith that the final approval of the people is given not to demagogues, slavishly pandering to their selfishness, merchandising with the clamor of the hour, but to statesmen ministering to their welfare, representing their deep, silent, abiding convictions.

Statutes must appeal to more than material welfare. Wages won't satisfy, be they never so large. Nor houses; nor lands; nor coupons, though they fall thick as the leaves of autumn. Man has a spiritual nature. Touch it and it must respond as the magnet responds to the pole. To that, not to selfishness, let the laws of the Commonwealth appeal.

Do the day's work. If it be to protect the rights of the weak, whoever objects, do it. If it be to help a powerful corporation better to serve the people, whatever the opposition, do that. Expect to be called a standpatter, but don't be a standpatter. Expect to be called a demagogue, but don't be a demagogue. Don't hesitate to be as revolutionary as science. Don't hesitate to be as reactionary as the multiplication table. Don't expect to build up the weak by pulling down the strong. Don't hurry to legislate. Give administration a chance to catch up with legislation.

Recognise the immortal worth and dignity of man. Let the laws . . . proclaim to her humblest citizen, performing the most menial task, the recognition of his manhood, the recognition that all men are peers, the humblest with the most exalted, the recognition that all work is glorified. Such is the foundation of liberty under the law. Such is the sublime revelation of man's relation to man—democracy.

QUALITY OF LAWS

Men do not make laws. They do but discover them. Laws must be justified by something more than the will of the majority. They must rest on the eternal foundation of righteousness. That State is most fortunate in its form of government which has the aptest instruments for the discovery of laws. The latest, most modern, and nearest perfect system that statesmanship has devised is representative government. Its weakness is the weakness of us imperfect human beings who administer it. Its strength is that even such administration secures to the people more blessings than any other system ever produced. No nation has discarded it and retained liberty. Representative government must be preserved.

Courts are established, not to determine the popularity of a cause, but to adjudicate and enforce rights. No litigant should be required to submit his case to the hazard and expense of a political campaign. No judge should be required to seek or receive political rewards. . . The electorate and judiciary cannot combine. A hearing means a hearing. When the trial of causes goes outside the court room, Anglo-Saxon constitutional government ends.

Address to State Senate, 1914.

Revelation has not ceased. The strength of a righteous cause has not grown less. The people of Massachusetts are patriotic before they are partisan, they are not for men but for measures, not for selfishness but for duty, and they will support their Government. Revelation has not ceased and faith in men has not failed. They cannot be intimidated, they cannot be coerced, they cannot be deceived, and their sovereignty is not for sale.

PUBLIC AFFAIRS NOT A GAME

When this campaign is over it will be a rash man who will again attempt to further his selfish interests by dragging a great party name in the mire and seeking to gain the honor of office by trafficking with disorder. The conduct of public affairs is not a game. Responsible office does not go to the crafty. Governments are not founded upon an association for public plunder but on the co-operation of men wherein each is seeking to do his duty.

The past five years have been like an earthquake. They have shaken the institutions of men to their very foundations. It has been a time of searchings and questionings. It has been a time of great awakenings. There has been an overpowering resolution among men to make things better. Despotisms have been falling. Republics have been rising. There has been rebellion everywhere against usurped authority. With all that America has been entirely sympathetic. There has been bred in the blood through generations a great sympathy for all peoples struggling to be free. We have a deep conviction that "resistance to tyranny is obedience to law." And on that conviction we have stood for three centuries. Time and experience have but strengthened our belief that it is sound.

There are among us a great mass of people who have been reared for generations under a government of tyranny and oppression. It is ingrained in their blood that there is no other form of government. They are disposed and inclined to think our institutions partake of the same nature as these they have left behind. We know they are wrong. They must be shown they are wrong.

CONSENT OF GOVERNED

There is a just government. There are righteous laws. We know the formula by which they are produced. The principle is best stated in the immortal Declaration of Independence to be "the consent of the governed." It is from that source our Government derives its just powers and promulgates its righteous laws. They are the will of the people, the settled conviction derived from orderly deliberation, that take on the sanctity ascribed to the people's voice. Along with the binding obligation to resist tyranny goes the other admonition, that "obedience to law is liberty"—such law and so derived.

These principles are the foundation of American institutions, the source of American freedom and the faith of any party entitled to call itself American. It constitutes truly the rule of the people. It justifies and sanctifies the authority of our laws and the obligation to support our Government. It is democracy administered through representation.

There are only two other choices, anarchy or despotism—Russia, present and past. For the most part human existence has been under the one or the other of these. Both have failed to minister to the highest welfare of the people. Unless American institutions can provide for that welfare the cause of humanity is hopeless. Unless the blessings of prosperity, the rewards of industry, justice and liberty, the satisfaction of duty well done can come under a rule of the people, they cannot come at all. We may as well abandon hope and, yielding to the demands of selfishness, each take what he can.

ROCK OF CONSCIENCE

We had hoped these questions were settled. But nothing is settled that evil and selfish men can find advantage for themselves in overthrowing. We must eternally smite the rock of public conscience if the waters of patriotism are to pour forth. We must ever be ready to point out the success of our country as justification of our determination to support it.

No one can deny that we are in the midst of an abounding prosperity. No one can deny that this prosperity is well distributed; especially is this true of the wage earner. Industrially, commercially, financially, America has been a success ..... Wages and hours of labor were never so favorable. We have attained a standard of living among our people the like of which never before existed on earth.

Intellectually our progress compares with our prosperity. The opportunity for education is not large, but it is well used. The school is everywhere. Ignorance is a disgrace. The turrets of college and university dot the land. Their student bodies were never so large. Science and invention, literature and art flourish.

There is higher standard of justice in all the affairs of life than in the past. Our commercial transactions are on a higher plane. There is a moral standard that runs through all the avenues of our life that has lifted it into a new position and gives to men a keener sense of honor in all things. There has come to be a new realization of the brotherhood of man, a new significance to religion. The war aroused a new patriotism, and revealed the strength of our moral power.

The issue in Massachusetts is whether these conditions can endure. Will men realize their blessing and exhibit the resolution to support and defend the foundation on which they rest? Having saved Europe are we ready to surrender America? Having beaten the foe from without are we to fall a victim to the foe from within?

All of this is put in question by the issue of this campaign. That one fundamental issue is the support of the Government in its determination to maintain order. On that all of these opportunities depend.

Address at Tremont Temple, Nov. 1, 1919.

We may claim with reason that our nation has had the guidance of Providence; we may know that our form of Government must ultimately prevail upon earth; but what guaranty have we that it shall be maintained here? What proof that some unlineal hand, some barbarism, without or within, shall not wrench the scepter of democracy from our grasp? The rule of princes, the privilege of birth, has come down through the ages; the rule of the people has not yet marked a century and a half. There is no absolute proof, no positive guaranty, but there is hope and high expectation, and the path is not uncharted.

It may be some help to know that, however much of glory, there is no magic in American democracy. Let us examine some more of this Declaration of ours, and examine it in the light of the events of those solemn days in which it was adopted.

Men of every clime have lavished much admiration upon

What Women Wear

There are some women whose brows always pucker at the thought of fashions to come. It was bad enough yesterday having to take on the fashions of today, but it may be worse getting used to tomorrow's. That seems to be their apprehension.

So this question: "What of the styles to come?" is not often asked with joyous anticipation, though there are some women still who look upon all new fashions as an absorbing adventure. The mere change in the cut of a sleeve gives a variety to existence. Life for them can never jog along quite monotonously so long as there are ever changing kinds of fashions to essay.

To the moot question the first answer seems to be that skirts are to be shorter—they are getting shorter before a number of very presentable women in this country had taken up with the lengthened skirt. It took us conservative Americans so long to adopt the very short skirt that by the time we had made it our own we were not quite in the mood for the longer one. We were afraid we wouldn't be quite decent with a short skirt and then we were afraid we would be dowdy with a long one. And now the makers of clothes in Paris have cried right about face, leaving a good many women who take only an inaccurate interest in fashion not quite sure whether hems are going up or going down.

At least there is this comfort—it is easier to shorten the length of your frocks on hand than to lengthen them.

A smooth unbelted line at the front—which might be spoken of as Moyen Age—is a new mode sure to gain ground. The silhouette that the French call "mince," for which our "slender" never seems quite adequate, is in no danger of losing prestige. In fact a closer draping of fabric about the waist and hips will give an effect of even greater slenderness, and though the circular note will be used on skirts and flounces it will not be done in a manner to add width to the line of the figure.

Suit of black satin with circular flaring jacket. There is a beige collar, crossed and tied at the waist.

The suit in the sketch is to the point. It is made of black satin, and the jacket is draped into long-waisted lines that are emphasised by he circular flounces about the hips and the elbows.

As Calvin Coolidge Thinks

the first part of the Declaration of Independence, and rightly so, for it marked the entry of new forces and new ideals into human affairs. Its admirers have sometimes failed in their attempts to live by it, but none have successfully disputed its truth. It is the realization of the true glory and worth of man, which, when once admitted, wrought vast changes that have marked all history since its day. All this relates to natural rights, fascinating to dwell upon, but not sufficient to live by. The signers knew that well; more important still, the people whom they represented knew it. So they did not stop there. After asserting that man was to stand out in the universe with a new and supreme importance, and that governments were instituted to insure life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness, they did not shrink from the logical conclusion of this doctrine. They knew that the duty between the citizen and the State was reciprocal. They knew that the State called on its citizens for their property and their lives; they laid down the proposition that government was to protect the citizen in his life, liberty, and pursuit or happiness. At some expense? Yes. Those prudent and thrifty men had no false notions about incurring expense. They knew the value of increasing their material resources, but they knew that prosperity was a means, not an end. At cost of life? Yes. Those sons of the Puritans, of the Huguenots, of the men of Londonderry, braved exile to secure peace, but they were not afraid to die in defence of their convictions. They put no limit on what the State must do for the citizen in his hour of need. While they required all, they gave all. Let us read their conclusion in their own words, and mark its simplicity and majesty: "And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor." There is no cringing reservation here, no alternative, and no delay. Here is the voice of the plain men of Middlesex, promising Yorktown, promising Appomattox.

Fourth of July Address Home of Daniel Welster, Marshfield; 1916.

:-: Heroines Of History :-:

Why Genevieve Is The Patron Saint Of Paris.

BY MARK STUYVESANT

Few persons visiting Paris fail to visit the beautiful old Church of St. Genevieve and pay honor to the noble woman in whose memory the church was built and is maintained. Indeed, it is to few women in history that such honor is accorded.

It was as far back as the year 424 in a little village called Nanterre—only two miles from Paris—that this little girl, who is now known as St. Genevieve, was born.

Genevieve was a Gaul, and it was the Romans who civilised her nation and taught them Christianity. When this little girl was seven years old she was an ardent Christian and thought much of her religion as she tended her father's sheep and spun the wool.

Left an orphan, Geneveve was taken by her godmother, who brought her up until she was a splendid girl of spiritual tastes and a passion for helping those in distress.

Now Attila, the Hun—"The Scourge of God," as he was called—had filled this part of the world with terror. For he and his great army of savages had crossed the Rhine and were devastating the country in their mad onrush toward Paris, which was their goal.

Terrified beyond sanity, the people of Genevieve's village started to flee to Paris for protection. But the brave little Genevieve took her stand at the bridge over the Seine, and begged them to go back to their homes and to defend them with prayer.

At this dramatic moment, the Bishop Germanus, holding Genevieve in high esteem, sent her a present. This emphasised the piety of the girl and influenced the frightened citizens to return to their homes to which Genevieve led them with prayer.

Attila was defeated at Chalons and driven out of Gaul. The prayers of the good little Genevieve and her townspeople were answered.

But peace was not to reign long among the Gauls, for within a few years the walls surrounding Paris, which the Romans had built, were besieged by the savage Franks, who came down from the northeast like a pack of hungry wolves.

True, the protected citizens of Paris were safe bodily, but soon they were starving, for they did not dare venture outside the protection of the city for food.

Realising that something had to be done, the fearless Genevieve rowed down the Seine in a little boat, audaciously passed the camp of the Franks and found a place to land safely.

From town to town this splendid girl went, begging food and help for the starving of Paris. She succeeded in bringing into the city a large number of boats filled with provisions.

Soon the Franks, under the leadership of Childeric, attacked the city and took possession of it. But the brave Childeric was in terror of Genevieve's power. He was afraid to see her and ordered her out of the city.

On hearing that some of the citizens of Paris were to be executed, Genevieve dressed herself in her peasant costume and fearlessly entered the city unrecognised.

Without hesitating, this brave woman went to the place where Childeric and his warriors were carousing. Like one inspired, she stood before him and begged mercy for the condemned and peace for Paris.

The great chief granted her requests.

For the rest of her life—which was long—Genevieve worked among the poor, comforting those in distress.

To her was given the privilege of seeing the pagan Childeric's son, Clovis, converted to Christianity and the great Cathedral of Notre Dame founded.

It was because of her courage and piety and the great service which she rendered to her fellowmen that Genevieve was regarded as the protectress of Paris, and was chosen as the patron saint of that great city.

Visitors From Other Planets

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS

"In the belief that the following hypothetical question may be made to serve a useful purpose for readers I ask you to answer it.

"Assuming that the planet Mars is inhabited, that a Martian scientist has invented and perfected an airship which easily, dependably and indefinitely is capable of making 1,000 miles an hour, that it has been supplied with a battery of interchangeable engines sufficient to drive the ship from Mars to the earth, and that it has been manned, equipped and supplied with necessary stores, accommodations facilities and accessories for the entire journey, what obstacles would be encountered and what conditions, if any, would he and his assistants face to make the trip to the earth impracticable or impossible?—S. F. S., Columbus, Ohio."

The form of this question reminds me of the speech of a lawyer whose client had stolen and made away with a neighbor's cow: "Gentlemen of the jury, on your solemn oaths now, assuming that the complainant never had a cow, how could you convict my client of stealing it?" The question, like the old legal form of conveyance, is contrived with the aim of shutting out all obstacles in advance. But the assumptions made simply show what the real obstacles are.

In truth, the primary assumption appears to be based on a misapprehension of the nature of the problem of interplanetary intercourse. An "airship" and engines to drive it are assumed. But an airship is driven, like a vessel at sea, by the reaction of a resisting medium. Now, the space between the planets contains no resisting medium. To traverse it a projectile force, or such a force associated with gravitation, would be needed.

Theoretically it would be possible to provide the projectile force, since we know how much would be required to set an object free from the control of any particular planet's gravity. In the case of Mars a force giving a velocity of about three miles a second—say five of six times as fast as a high-speed military projectile—would be sufficient. Some overplus would be needed to make up for the retardation caused at the start by passing through the Martian atmosphere, but the Martian engineers could calculate it from their knowledge of the density of that atmosphere.

If the projectile started from the earth its inital velocity would have to be about seven miles a second. This is because of the greater strength of the earth's gravity. Apparently, then, it would be much easier for the Martians to come to us than for us to go to them.

It would be still easier for an inhabitant of the moon to go voyaging by projectile. The gravity of the moon is relatively so small that a velocity of about a mile and a half per second would suffice to set the voyager free. Once free, like the voyager from Mars, he would fall within the gravitional control of the earth, which would draw him down to its surface, upon which he would strike with a velocity of almost seven miles per second, unless he could contrive some method of slowing up his fall or of breaking its effects.

So, while it would be easier for a Martian or a Lunarian to start on a trip to the earth, than for us to start for Mars or the moon yet, on the other hand, they would have a much more serious fall to provide against on their arrival than we would have at the end of our journey to visit them.

As to obstacles encountered in the open space between the planets, they would arise mainly from the absence of air to breathe, and of heat to prevent freezing. Something approaching to absolute zero would be encountered in open space. Whether this could be successfully provided against inside a hollow projectile either by means of some heat-producing substance, or by trapping the sun's rays and converting them into heat, is a practically unanswerable question—one for a Jules Verne solution.

The main reliance of the adventurers in the projectile would be I should suppose, upon chemistry, advanced beyond any point as yet attained in terrestial laboratories. It seems certain that chemistry could, for a limited time, provide food and dispose of waste.

It may be added that, theoretically (but upon scientically sound theory), an amelioration of the adverse conditions of starting from and landing upon a planet, as described above, might be obtained by applying the principle of the repeating rocket experimented with by Professor Goddard some time ago. The rocket would be propelled by dynamic reaction even in empty space. It could act against gravity in falling.

Every Morning at Breakfast take a draught of SANATOGEN

This will give you that extra nerve-energy which makes you feel "fit" and fresh all day and it will save you from Heat prostration

SANATOGEN in the morning means a better day's work—means that you feel brighter, fresher, and keener all day, in spite of the exhausting heat, while your powers of resistance to typhoid, cholera, dysentery and nervous disorders will be enormously increased.

TRY IT!

SANATOGEN'S power to increase nerve-energy has been definitely proved, in the words of Sir Charles A. Cameron. C.B., M.D., etc. President of the Royal Institute of Public Health:—

Sanatogen is an excellent nerve-food of the highest nutritive value, easily and completely digested.

GET A BOTTLE TO-DAY

ALL CHEMISTS SELL SANATOGEN

Never forget that Sanatogen is a food, not a medicine or a "secret remedy." It increases nerve-energy by feeding the nerves—not by goading them with drugs or stimulants. Its action is as natural as that of any ordinary food: it must do good, and it cannot do harm. That is why doctors give it even to babies. And that is why so many Europeans in the East take Sanatogen regularly, all the year round—not as an occasional "tonic," but as a part of their daily diet. You should do likewise, if you want to keep your nerve-energy at the highest pitch, and to avoid the debilitating effects of the great heat

RUSSIAN SHIPS IN PHILIPPINES MAY BE SOLD

Admiral Stark's "Portless Fleet" May Be Inter-Island Traders

The Russian refugee ships now at Olongapo in the Philippines, which were anchored off Woosung for three weeks last Christmas and which were involved in the first Kearny case now before the United States Court, will very probably be sold, according to information received from Manila yesterday.

Several offers are said to have been made for the ships and an inspector of the Bureau of Customs has gone to Olongapo to make an inspection of their seaworthiness. Eleven ships were in the squadron which Admiral Stark took to the Philippines, but two have already been sold. The 169 gross ton tug Farvater was purchased by the Yangco Steamship Company from the trustees for Pesos 12,000, and after being rebuilt is now in the inter-island service.

The prospective buyers of the remaining Russian vessels are said to be considering their purchase with a view of also putting them in the inter-island service after they have been reconditioned.

The sale of Russian vessels in China was recently made the subject of a note from the Soviet Government to China on the grounds that as the vessels were the property of the Soviet and unlawfully held by the "Whites" they could not be sold.
